THE yellow fever situation in New Orleans, is very grave. According to last accounts there were 165 cases and 42 deaths. The disease is said to be of very malignant form, and spreading rapidly.

ACCORDING to recent apportionment of the available school fund, Cameron county is entitled to $34,408.50 as her share for the ensuing scholastic year. Of this amount the Brownsville public school gets $12,636.75. The apportionment is $5.25 per capita, and the number of pupils within school age according to last census was 6554, and of this number Brownsville has 2407.

THE Houston Post says a partly melted and run together whisky flask was picked up near the bones of a victim of the Humble fire. It is a curiosity, showing that the bottle had contained whisky at the time its owner was overcome in the wave of fire. The top and neck of the bottle were melted and twisted, while the bottom is almost intact, and contains a fluid bearing the color and evidently is whisky. The curio is the property of Chas. Du Bard, who resides in Houston and he would not part with it for anything.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Jealousy is a vine on which sour grapes grow.

Two is company and three is a crowd at a genuine picnic.

He who lives on his past reputation has a half-starved look.

A man seldom makes his money fast if his father made it first.

The pain of a lost love is what many a woman has paid for a home.

A widow can make a man believe in her by pretending to believe in him.

When you see a man holding up a post the post must be loose or the man tight.

More people would avoid getting into the fire if they had sense enough to keep out of the frying pan.

A man might give his wife more spending money if she wouldn't spend so much of it on things for him that he doesn't want.—Chicago News.

OLD LOVE REVIVES ON SIGHT.

Miss Daisy Waters of Council Bluffs Weds a Traveling Man.

Council Bluffs, Iowa.—Romantic ideas led Miss Daisy Walters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Walters of No. 800 East Pierce street, into a clandestine marriage three months ago, which has but recently become known to her relatives. She married Bernard Rahfeld of Omaha at Papillion, Neb., April 1.

Since the wedding Mrs. Rahfeld has been living at home, while her husband, who is a traveling salesman, has been on the road.

Miss Walters formerly kept company with Rahfeld, but had not done so for a year prior to the wedding. One day she met him again and the friendship was renewed. Rahfeld, acting on the spur of the moment, proposed that they should get married without letting any one know of it. Miss Walters at first demurred, but finally consented.

The pair obtained a carriage and drove to Papillion, fifteen miles away, with Lewis Bernard, a friend. There they obtained a license and were married by Judge Wilson. They returned to Omaha the same afternoon, and after parting with her husband the newly wedded wife came across the river and returned to her home. Her relatives supposed she had been shopping in Omaha and asked no questions.

The secret weighed upon the young woman after the romance wore off. She began to regret that she had acted so hastily, but could not muster up courage to tell her parents and ask their sympathy and forgiveness. Mr. and Mrs. Walters had been more or less opposed to Rahfeld, though they say they would have given their consent had their daughter informed them of her intention to marry him. They supposed Miss Daisy's favor was bestowed in another direction.

The Way to Do Things.

If there is that in your nature which demands the best and will take nothing less, and you do not demoralize this standard by the habit of deterioration in everything you do, you will achieve distinction in some line if you have the persistence and determination to follow your ideal.

But if you are satisfied with the cheap and shoddy, the botched and slovenly, if you are not particular about quality in your work, or in your environment, or in your personal habits, then you must expect to take second place, to fall back into the rear of the procession.

People who have accomplished work worth while have had a very high sense of the way to do things. They have not been content with mediocrity. They have not confined themselves to the beaten tracks; they have never been satisfied to do things just as others do them, but always a little better. They always pushed things that came to their hands a little higher up, a little farther on. It is this little higher up, this little farther on, that counts in the quality of life's work. It is the constant effort to be first class in everything one attempts that conquers the heights of excellence.—O. S. Mar-den in "Success Magazine."

Screen Doors and Windows.

Screen doors and windows may be renovated with screen paint that comes prepared in black and bronze green, and may be obtained at any paint store at a very reasonable price, or the work may be done with black varnish. They must be well brushed to remove rust and dust. One coat is sufficient.

Benefit of a Rural Life.

Fresh country air is wholesome and a sovereign remedy for many of the ills that afflict the weary city dweller. The tendency in this country has been too much to crowd into the great cities, and many of the poor of the slums and overtaxed tenements would be greatly benefited if they could be removed to the farms. The magazines that encourage the love of rural life are doing a great work, and not the least feature of their mission is the cultivation of the aesthetic quality. They promote a love for the beautiful in nature that will result in the preservation of much of the natural loveliness of the country that has been too ruthlessly dealt with by the unappreciative utilitarian in the past.—Nashville Banner.
